How to make a video CV

1. Class organisation

Presentation of schedule, assessments, etc.

2. How to make a video CV (CC2)

Watch a tutorial and a sample video profile. How To Make A Video Resume

Your video profile is the ideal complement to your CV because there are hundreds, if not thousands of candidates applying for the same position. With a video profile, you will stand out from the competition.

Before you start, ask yourself these questions:

- What makes up your brand?
- What are your values, character, integrity, ethics, morality?
- What is your passion, what would get you up in the morning?
- What are your gifts, what talents are you born with, what makes you special?
- How would you describe yourself in a business setting?

Examples:

Arif's Visume

Structure :

1. Establish warm contact, thank viewers for watching and potentially considering you for employment
2. Introduce yourself : name, age, current occupation, background
3. Present your professional objective, the type of position you are looking for
4. Describe your major strengths
 - qualities: why you would be a good employee, what you can do for the company that hires you
 - training, professional experience (placements, employment...)
 - personal experience (voluntary work, sports, foreign languages and travelling...) if relevant
5. End the talk with a strong statement ! Show that you wish to get in touch with recruiters. Mention contact details or your professional website / page.

TIPS :

- use spoken English
- your video may be seen by multiple employers, so don't be too specific
- time yourself to stay within the time limit

First of all I'd like to thank you for considering my application and for taking the time to look at my video profile.

I want to improve my current skills in different technologies as well as earn new ones.

I have previous experience in software development from my internship in Sopra in the last year of my Bachelor's degree.

In my last internship, I learned how to listen to people and provide solutions to match their expectations.

Right now I'm looking for a 6-month internship in a company where I would be contributing to large projects.

At work, I am resourceful, reliable, dedicated and I can adapt easily to any type of environment.

I like to challenge myself and that's why I went to study in Poland during one semester as part of my studies.

My previous internship supervisors have always trusted me and I've often been hired for a summer job after a training period.

I led a 6-person team during a semester project last year and we succeeded in releasing a well-finished product.

I am a volunteer fireguard, which proves I am committed and reliable.
